Fundamental analysis summary

This is a typical growth company. Without realizing a certain profit, it is already worth 7 billions. It has benefited from containment to increase its sales and become profitable (180 MEUR compared to (39.1 MEUR) in 2019). Active in the home delivery of pre-cooked meals, it seems to have found its target customers. By offering meals at CHF13 or $9, it recommends saving time for its consumers. It has a large cash position: 600 MEUR that it will surely use to grow. Interesting company to follow and see if it continues to make profit in an unconfined context.

Technical analysis summary

A stock that has shown a nice upward curve since 2019, when it started to have a positive EBITDA. It has a market cap of 7.24 billion. It corrected on August 10 following the earnings announcement and seems to be in breakout.
